Yad B Yad at OFJCC 2021-2022

Yad b Yad parents' participation program is a cornerstone for new and returning families to the OFJCC.

This program provides a safe, warm, loving and welcoming environment, designed to encourage friendships and grow community rooted in Jewish values.

Yad b Yad integrates age appropriate elements of early childhood education concepts including constructivist/Reggio Emilia inspired practice, play based learning and love of nature with the use of natural, open-ended materials. With parent or caregivers by their side, children learn to play both cooperatively and independently.

Developed and led by Shuly Paret, Yad b Yad Program Director, all activities encourage positive interactions between parents and children and stimulating discussions between adults. Each day brings a balance of structured and unstructured fun and learning!
